"Six dozen pieces to wash to day,
Ahd the children must go to school,
And every one knows on washing days
Baby is cross as a rule;
And Bridget is new to the work yet,
(Oh, dear, how my head does ache!)
Yes, I shall have the dinner to cook,
And all of the beds to make."

But as seen as breakfast was ready, Father came in from the yard; He kissed the sick little mother. "Wassure that her work was hard." He said to the noisy boys; "Be still! Your mother's not well to-day;" And when he bade her "good-bye," He "could kis the pain away."

And the coffee or kiss-which was it !ed like a magical charm; The spirit of diligent gladness
Waseverywhere on the farm,
The father worked hard at the plowing,
The mother forgot her pain,
Bridget did well with her washing, wasn't a drop of rain

The baking and cleaning were over When the boys came home from school;
Baby forgot it washing day
And pleasantly broke his rule;
And at night the house was clean and bright
There was not a thing amiss.
"Tis only a wife," the father thought,
"Would do as much for a kiss."

And the wife, sitting down is the firelight,
The baby as eep at her side,
Her husband chatting and watching her.
With a husband's loving pride,
Thought much of her tuit and pleasant home,
Of her children asleep in bed;
And said with a sweet contented laugh,
"No wonder that girls will wed."

Washington's Vision.

At the request of one of our subscribers we publish Washington's Vision. It will without doubt be new to many of our readers, and of much interest to them. The last time I ever saw Anthony Sherman was on July 4th 1859, in Independence Square. He was then ninetynine, and becoming very feeble, but though so old, his dimming eye re-kindled as he looked at Independence Hall, which he said he had come to gaze upon once more before he was gathered "What time is it?" said he raising his we experienced all phases of fortune, now good, now ill, one time victorious and another conquered. The darkest period, however, was, I think, when Washington, after several reverses, retreated to Valley Forge, where he re-solved to pass the Winter of '77. Ah! I have often seen the tears coursing down the dear old commander's care-worn cheeks, as he would be conversing with some officer about the condition of his poor soldiers. You have doubtless heard the story of Washington going to the thicket to pray. Well, it is not only thicket to pray. Well, it is not only true, but he used often to pray in secret for aid and comfort from that God, the interposition of whose divine providence alone brought us safely through those dark days of tribulation.

"One day-I remember it well-the chilly winds whistled through the leafless trees, though the sky was cloudless and the sun shining brightly—he re-mained in his quarters nearly the whole and the sum and the sum of the whole afternoon alone. When he came out I on which still blazed the word "Union," noticed that his face was a shade paler he placed it upon the standard while all than usual, and that there seemed to be something on his mind of more than ordinary importance. Messrs. John Francis and P. I. Bone-I essayed once more to address her, but my tongue had become powerless. Even, thought itself presently became paral-ized. A new influence, mysterious, potent, irresistible, took possession of me. All I could do was to gaze steadily, va-cantly, at my unknown visitant. Gradually the surrounding atmosphere seemed as though becoming full of sensations, and grew luminous. Every thing about me appeared to rarefy, the mysterious visitor herself becoming more airy, and yet more distinct to my eyes than before. I now began to feel as one dying, or rather to experience the sensations which I have sometimes imagined accompany dissolution, I did not move; all were alike impossible, I was only conscious of gazing fixedly, vacantly at my Hardened Liver. Five years ago I broke down with kidney and liver complaint and rheun tism.

Since then I have been unable to be about at all. My liver became hard like wood; my limbs were puffed up and filled with water.

All the best physicians agreed that nothing could cure me. I resolved to try Hop Bitters; I have used seven bottles; the hardness has all gone from my liver, the swelling from my limbs, and it has worked a miracle in my case; otherwise I woul have been now in my grave.
J. W. Morry.

"I was dragged down with debt, poverty and suffering for years, caused by a sick family and large bills for doctors.
"I was completely discouraged, until one year ago, by the advice of my pastor, I commenced using Hop Bitters, and in one month we were all well, and none of us have seen a sick day since, and I want to say to all noor men, you can keep your to say to all poor men, you can keep your families well a year with Hop Bitters for less than one doctor's visit will cost.
